Definitions

As identified in the chart below.

Item	Definition
OHS Act 2004	While the duty of care of employers under the 2004 OHS Act is more or less the same as what it was under the 1985 Act, the definition of health was amended. The definition of 'health' is now as follows: "health" includes psychological health. This means that the employer must address workplace hazards such as bullying, stress and fatigue. So while there are no regulations, WorkSafe Victoria has guidance on bullying, which is an acknowledged, and serious, hazard in workplaces.
"Workplace"	A place where work is carried out for a business and undertaking and includes any place where a worker goes, or is likely to be, while at work. Health and safety legislation applies to all of these locations.
Officer	People who can makes decisions, or participate in making decisions that affect the whole, or a substantial part, of a business or undertaking. It is a requirement of Health and Safety legislation that any officer of an organisation must exercise due diligence to ensure that the organisation complies with its health and safety duties. This means they must ensure that the organisation has appropriate systems of work in place and they must actively monitor and evaluate health and safety management within the organisation.
